Soviet Union's request for UN session seems certain

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., UPI —The Soviet Union today appeared certain of getting the U.N. General Assembly emergency session it wants to carry on its anti-Israeli campaign in the Middle East crisis.

Early returns in a poll of the world body's 122 member nations indicated more than the necessary 62 votes would be on Russia's side.

The session might come Friday night or Saturday.

Moscow diplomatic sources said Premier Alexei N. Kosygin would lead the Kremlin delegation in its propaganda drive to name Israel as the "aggressor" in last week's war and to get Israeli troops withdrawn from occupied Arab lands.

There was speculation other world leaders might come and turn the session into one of the greatest musters of world leaders since ousted Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev attended a session seven years ago.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg was reported to have said the United States would not oppose the emergency session. The session was taken for granted, like a political heat wave.

The legal way for the emergency session was cleared Wednesday when the 15-nation Security Council rejected a Soviet resolution condemning Israel.

The Russians promptly dumped their 20-year policy of refusing to take war and peace issues to the General Assembly and pushed for the session to carry on its campaign to win Arab friends. Secretary General Thant duly sent out polling telegrams to the 122 polling telegrams to the 122 member nations.

Once a majority approves, the session was expected to be convoked in 24 hours.

The United States kept the Middle East issue alive in the Security Council by delaying a demand for a vote on its resolution calling for mediation in the Arab-Israeli dispute.

There was talk the council and the assembly might meet concurrently next week.

Few expected much of anything but a propaganda show from an assembly session.

Security Council orders are binding under the U.N. Charter. The assembly can only give advice.

First Baptist church school is scheduled

Due to the fact that meetings are being held temporarily in the Junior High School building, the First Baptist Church Vacation Church School will be held at the Presbyterian Church under the direction of Mrs. John Pershing.

The dates are June 19 through the 24th with classes from Kindergarten through Junior High.

The teachers are: Kindergarten: Wilma Shinn, Supt. Nila Greenlee, Marilyn Wagie and Joyce Braden.

Primary: Mayme Leslie, Supt. Freda Collins, Judy Cable.

Middle: Elnora Walton, Supt. Maybelle Rice, Dee Rammel and Marjorie Cooper.

Juniors: Mickie Nicol and Barbara Spence.

Junior High: Rev. Stanley Nicol and Rev. Thomas Heinlein.

Music Director: Robert Haas.

Seek to equalize arms

LUXEMBOURG UPI — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) today began seeking ways of equally reducing allied and Soviet armed forces.

The search for a "balanced reduction" of East and West military forces in Europe was called for at the NATO spring ministerial session which ended Wednesday night.

The final communique agreed to by foreign ministers of the 15 member states said a Soviet contribution towards reduction "would be welcomed as a gesture of peaceful intent."

The Allies were far from showing unanimity over the Middle East at French insistence, they are keeping NATO aloof from the Arab-Israeli crisis.

The ministers wrangled for four hours before reaching agreement on a watered-down version of the stance all but France wanted to show.

They finally pledged support of the "legitimate interest of all concerned," but dropped a call to "seek good relations" with all Middle East countries when faced with a French refusal.

The French position was that any indication that NATO favored one side in the conflict might unnecessarily involve the alliance.

Ministers all agreed to German demands the Soviet Union should not be allowed to discriminate against it in relaxing tension.

They reiterated a peaceful solution of the German problem should follow a freely expressed political wish of the Germans themselves. The maintenance of the viability of West Berlin was stressed.

The need for a resumption of talks on Cyprus and on Greek-Turkish relations was noted and the presence of United Nations forces in the island pending a solution was agreed.

Allied forces fighting Cong on two fronts

SAIGON UPI —Thousands of American and South Vietnamese troops battled Communist guerrillas on two fronts near Saigon and killed at least 271 Viet Cong, military spokesmen said today.

A multi-battalion force of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division—perhaps 4,000 men—pushed deep into dense, swampy jungles to fight Communists in a Viet Cong sanctuary never challenged before.

The "Big Red One" troopers reported killing 60 Communists in their initial stab at the War Zone D haven 50 miles north northeast of Saigon. Intelligence reports said 2,000 hard core Viet Cong were lurking deeper in the jungle.

Swarms of helicopters lifted the GIs into position.

The South Vietnamese Army scored one of its biggest victories in months, killing 211 Communists in paddy land 85 miles southwest of Saigon.

The battle pitched the South Vietnamese 21st Infantry Division against the feared Viet Cong "Tay Do" battalion. The two forces are long-time foes in the Mekong Delta rice bowl south of Saigon.

Officials said half the Communist battalion was wiped out. Many of the Communists were killed in hard-hitting strikes by Vietnamese prop-driven A1 Skyraider aircraft joined by armed American helicopters. The first contact was made by about 200 South Vietnamese troops. They held their ground against the much larger Communist forces until reinforcements and air strikes could reach the scene.

DePauw administrator invited to attend conference in England

Norman J. Knights, assistant to the president for planning and development at DePauw University, has accepted an invitation to participate in an international conference in England, beginning June 18.

The ninety-third Wilton Park Conference on defense cooperation and industrial competition will draw delegates from Western Europe and North America to the seminar site near Steyning, 50 miles south of London.

The two-week session offers a forum for the international exchange of views on political, economic and social questions relating to industrial competition and defense cooperation between Europe and the United States.

Normally attending the conferences are parliamentarians, senior civil servants, journalists and others dealing directly with public opinion, industrialists, trade unionists and university personnel.

Several members of Parliament, Laborites and Conservatives alike, plus representatives of the Wilson administration, are slated to address sessions of the conference.

Eight days of the program will be devoted to discussions and addresses at Wilton Park. June 22 the group will attend a luncheon in their honor at the House of Commons, tour the Palace of Westminster, and then attend a reception given them by the British government.

June 25-27 will be spent in Wales, where the conferees will visit the Port Talbot works of the Steel Company of Wales and Atlantic College at Llantwit Major.

The Wilton Park Conferences are sponsored by the British government but are planned and chaired by the academic community.

The conference concludes July 1.

House Demo leaders back anti-strike plan

WASHINGTON UPI — House Democratic leaders called in their political IOU's today in an all-out drive to keep intact the administration's plan to prevent a national railroad strike next week.

They were preparing to fight off a determined effort to make the Senate-passed bill more to labor's liking with amendments providing for such items as wage improvement and federal seizure of the railroads under certain circumstances.

House changes in the bill would require Senate concurrence and possibly a conference between negotiators for the two chambers.

The administration fears this would prevent final congressional approval of the measure before the strike deadline set for 12:01 a.m. Monday.

The main threat to the administration's cause was a group of rebellious liberal Democrats. They have assailed the bill as one-sided in favor of the railroads and as a precedent-setting measure that would destroy the collective bargaining system.

The bill would provide for a final no-strike 90-day period during which a special five-man board would try to help the railroads and unions involved settle their wage dispute voluntarily.

Failing a settlement during the period, work and wage terms recommended by the board would take effect during a new no-strike period running until either the parties reached agreement or Jan. 1, 1969, whichever came first.

House Republican leaders announced their "reluctant" support of the bill Wednesday, but it was believed some GOP members — perhaps enough to put the administration's position in jeopardy — would not follow their leaders.

Administration officials have warned that a railroad strike would imperil the nation's ability to function at home and abroad.

Fillmore church to hold family school

Fillmore Methodist Church is experimenting this year with a Vacation Church School which is different from the traditional. Instead of being held in the daytime and only for children, the school is from 7:00-8:30 each night beginning Monday, June 19, and continuing through Friday, June 23. Furthermore, Mrs. Peggy Thomas, Director, has announced that the school is for the entire family.

There will be classes and discussion groups for persons of all age groups, from babyhood to the oldest. Highly qualified teachers have been secured for all groups including high school, young adult, and older adult. Adult groups will be particularly interested in discussing the relevance of the Bible and the Church to contemporary problems.

Although the school is being sponsored by and held at the Fillmore Methodist Church, it is emphasized that it is for the whole community, regardless of belief or denominational affiliation. The discussions would be greatly enriched by the presence of persons of varying viewpoints.

It is sincerely hoped that all persons in the area will help make the week a time of spiritual fellowship and renewal for the entire family.

Kosygin to attend UN

MOSCOW UPI—Premier Alexei N. Kosygin will head the Soviet delegation to the United Nations General Assembly meeting on the Mideast, it was announced today.

Russia expressed hope the meeting would turn into a summit conference. The Soviet Foreign Ministry summoned several Eastern and Western ambassadors today to inform them of Kosygin's plans and to express hope that other countries would be represented by leaders of corresponding position.

Julian Polk is new South Putnam Supt.

Julian Polk, a native of Knox County, will assume his duties as Superintendent of the South Putnam Community Schools on Monday, June 19, it was announced today.

Mr. Polk received his B.S. degree and M.S. degree from Indiana State University at Terre Haute.

He has been a teacher and principal at Oaktown, Twelve Mile and Linden, and superintendent of Kentland-Jefferson. He comes to Putnam County from Springs Valley Community Schools in French Lick.

Racial violence continues in Ohio, Alabama, Florida

Negro gangs rampaged through areas of Cincinnati, Ohio, in defiance of National Guardsmen Wednesday night, and Negro youths in Dayton, 40 miles away smashed shop windows after a speech by a black power leader.

About 350 to 400 Negroes marched to the Alabama capitol at Montgomery, demanding to present their grievances to Gov. Lurleen Wallace, and at Tampa, Fla., scene of three nights of racial violence, Negro "youth patrols" helped police keep the peace Wednesday night.

In Cincinnati, a white youth was shot and critically wounded.

Police said the white youth, James Shirk, 15, was an innocent bystander, apparently struck by a bullet fired by Negroes shooting at a fire station from a speeding car. Ollie Ingram, 17, a Negro was wounded by shotgun pellets fired in the tense West End riot area.

Almost 200 persons have been arrested in the Cincinnati rioting and damage exceeds $1 million from more than 100 fires. More than 50 persons have been injured. About 1,000 National Guardsmen were ordered into the city by Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes.

There also was a possibility the guardsmen would go into Dayton, where they had to quell racial violence last September.

Negroes smashed windows and threw rocks Wednesday night after a speech by Rap Brown, head of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

The march at Montgomery was stopped by police at barricades erected near the steps of the capitol. The Negroes demanded that Gov. Lurleen Wallace see them "or relinquish her seat." They marched away after several speeches by Negro leaders, but said they would be back Thursday night.

Tampa was quiet Wednesday night and police gave a lot of the credit to Negro youths, wearing white helmets, who reported any signs of suspicion to patrolman and took the licenses of all cars in the trouble areas. Negroes had burned buildings, looted and smashed windows the previous three nights.

Congressional approval of new draft law likely

WASHINGTON UPI — Congress today was on the verge of approving a new draft law far different from what President Johnson envisioned earlier this year.

The only step left was ratification by the House of a "compromise" version worked out by a joint conference committee.

The Senate Wednesday passed the revised draft bill on a 72-23 vote and the House was set to act on the measure either late today or next week.

Though technically a compromise, the measure is considerably closer to the bill passed by the House May 25 than to what the Senate approved May 11.

The Senate for the most part went along with the administration, which asked Congress simply to extend the Selective Service Act for another four years beyond June 30 when it expires.

The President intended to use his broad authority to institute some of the reforms he had in mind—a draft lottery.

He also had under study a proposal to eliminate student deferments.

But the House Armed Services Committee, under the chairmanship of Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., fashioned a bill that takes away much of the President's discretionary authority and guarantees student deferments to college students able to maintain passing grades.

Another section of the bill prohibits a draft lottery by directing the President to continue the current system of choosing eligible young men by the order of their birth dates.

Congress did agree, however, with some changes sought by the President. He will still be able to draft the youngest eligible men first—a reversal of the present order of induction. He also will be allowed to eliminate most graduate school deferments.

Roachdale Lions hear Major Hall

Tuesday evening, June 13, at 7:00, the Roachdale Lions Club held their meeting. President Franklin Ford presided.

Lions E. Hatfield and C. Spencer were in charge of the program.

C. Spencer introduced Major Dick Hall of the Air Force who is head of the R.O.T.C. at DePauw University. Major Hall gave a talk and presented a colored film "Tactical Weapons Effectiveness Tests." It was interesting and was enjoyed by all.

A very fine supper was served prior to the meeting.

Hints from Heloise by HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Please tell folks not to pop corn in butter or margarine.

Popping it in an electric skillet is fine. But, no matter what the container, when butter or oleo is used, there's always the chance of a lot of burned or scorched popcorn in the bottom of the pan and that's why many folks actually think they can't pop corn.

Corn should always be popped in oil. Any good cooking oil the homemaker prefers will do the job to perfection if a few simple rules are followed: Here they are:

Warm the popper, heavy pan or heavy skillet.

Put in one-fourth cup of cooking oil.

Let the oil get hot (about three minutes). Drop in several kernels. When they begin to spin in the hot oil, it's time to start popping.

Pour in enough kernels to cover the bottom of the pan.

Cover pan and shake gently.

When you hear the last few pops, remove pan from heat and empty contents into a large battered bowl.

These rules will result in perfect and delicious popcorn everytime.

Dear Heloise:

Is one refrigerator shelf
colder than another?

After all, it is important that we know since the majority of our perishable foods are kept in our refrigerators.

Eleanor Tiller
Dear Eleanor:

I don't know what brand of refrigerator you have but from my own experience and testing, the top shelf is the coldest. The second is the next coldest and on down, according to how many shelves you have!

So, hon, what you want real cold put on your top shelf!
Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Those of you who use sweet cucumber pickles, don't discard the jar or the remaining juice after the pickles are gone.

Open a can of small red beets and drain off the juice. Put the beets in the pickle jar and shake so that they get saturated with the juice.

Refrigerate one day and you have sweet pickled red beets.
They are delicious and tangy.

Letter of Laughter
Dear Heloise:

Have you ever had unexpected company catch your house topsy-turvy on a day when you'd decided to be a patient mother?

Don't try to explain why your house is cluttered.

If the guests have children they'll understand. If they don't, they wouldn't believe you anyway.

Experienced
Dear Heloise:

If you like to sit on a porch or an outside patio and have trouble keeping your cigarette ashes in the ash trays... try using a glass with a bit of water as an ash tray.

The ashes settle to the bottom and there is no muss.

I know one lady who purchased several small inexpensive brandy snifters for just such use.

Colored water could be added for a decorative effect as well as a conversational piece.
A.S.

Ever tried damp sand? It's great. It can also be colored with food coloring!

Empty flip top drink cans are good too. If they get knocked over, no muss.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

To prevent wooden cutting boards from sliding on the kitchen counter surface, place a slightly dampened terry towel between the counter and cutting board.

You can then knead bread dough or roll cookies or pie-crust without the board sliding around.

This has sure been helpful to me.

corresponding period of last year. The State's sales for April were $12,381,585 which is a gain of 3.4 per cent compared with sales of last April.

Forty-nine of the State's ninety-two counties reported sales gains for the month when compared with sales of April 1966.

Service disrupted

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind.
UPI — Electrical service was disrupted to most of this Montgomery County seat city of 15,000 persons today.

Officials and employees of the municipally-owned electric utility sought to locate the trouble and restore power immediately after the disruption about 10:05
a.m. EST.

A spokesman said all but a small outer portion of the city was affected.

Convention site

FORT WAYNE, UPI — Michigan City was chosen by the Indiana Association of Police Chiefs as the site for its annual convention in June next year.

The decision was made at its regular business meeting in Fort Wayne Wednesday. The next regular meeting of the association will be Aug. 13 in Terre Haute.

Urge congressmen to show patriotism

WASHINGTON UPI—Congressmen were urged today to demonstrate their patriotism by voting for a bill which makes desecration of the American flag a federal crime.

The appeal was made by the bill's sponsor, Rep. Richard L. Roudebush, R-Ind., in remarks prepared for the House. The House was scheduled to take up the measure today but put it off until next week to consider the railroad anti-strike legislation.

The legislation would make desecration of the flag punishable by a $1,000 fine, a year's imprisonment, or both. The proposal has strong bi-partisan backing and was inspired by recent anti-war demonstrations in New York City where the U. S. flag was publicly burned.

"Now is the time for patriotic Americans to demonstrate," Roudebush declared.

"Now is the time for Congress to lead the way and show the citizenry that we still care for our flag and country."

Although the bills is expected to pass without much difficulty, some legislators said they would oppose it on grounds it restricts the free expression of political dissent.

Roudebush's sponsorship of the measure also was prompted by a flag-burning in an Indiana State University English class discussing symbolism by a Canadian-born professor who later was fired from his job.

Medicare fears prove unfounded

WASHINGTON UPI—Fears that Medicare would overload hospitals with aged patients failed to materialize during the program's first year of operation, federal experts report.

At a news conference Wednesday, Social Security Commissioner Albert M. Ball said that "although there has been increased hospital use by older people, as one would expect, it has been within reasonable limit."

He estimated that the overall increase in hospital utilization had been "less than 5 per cent."

Ball said the total of $2.4 billion in Medicare payments to 4 million older Americans during the period was "slightly" higher than anticipated largely because of hospital costs.

But Ball noted the payroll tax which finances the hospitalization phase of Medicare has required no increase.

Medicare, which went into effect July 1, 1966, also paid out $840 million during its first year for doctors' bills, which are insured under the voluntary "part B" of the program. More than 90 per cent of Americans over 65 are covered by this optional insurance, for which they pay a premium of $3 a month.

McHatton rites at Roachdale

Funeral rites for Robert McHatton, 60, son of former Roachdale residents, are announced for 2 p.m. Saturday at Perkins Funeral Home in Roachdale. Burial will be in Roachdale Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Friday. Mr. McHatton died Monday at St. Cloud, Fla. He was a son of Dr. J. W. and Daisy Young McHatton. His mother survives in Florida. He was preceded in death by his father and a sister.

State fossil

MILWAUKEE, Wis. UPI—Along with a state flower, stone, bird and song, the Wisconsin Geological Society wants the legislature to adopt a state fossil, the mastodon.

The mastodon, an extinct prehistoric elephant, got the society's recommendation over the cephalopod, a kind of mollusc, after a vice president said, "Ask one person on the street what a cephalopod is and he'll think you're swearing at him."

"As for the mastodon," he added, "most people get excited about it."

Wrong place

SINGAPORE UPI—It wasn't the best place to hold a political demonstration.

Communists who massed outside Singapore's Changi prison Tuesday night to demand the release of 150 political detainees watched in surprise as the gates swung open.

The police herded them inside. A police spokesman today said a total of 345 demonstrators were arrested for disorderly conduct.

In Massachusetts, the Legislature is still known as the General Court.

Wins $50 prize

NEW YORK UPI—Frank Hunt, operator of a commercial studio at Whiteland, Ind., won the $50 second prize in the United Press International monthly newspaper contest for May.

Hunt was on the UPI staff at the Indianapolis Speedway 500-mile race when he snapped a picture of driver Mario Andretti angrily kicking the wheel which had come off his car and forced him out of the race.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A CHARACTER who obviously had barely survived a hard, hard night, stepped up to the bar at the Regency and told the bartender, "First, a couple of aspirins. And don't slam the lid of the box!"

One of the March blizzards in New York, reports Caskie Stinnett, proved too much for a commuter. His car became hopelessly stalled in a snow drift, and he was compelled to spend the night in a motel just north of the George Washington Bridge. Came morning, and he called his secretary to report ruefully, "I won't be in today. In fact, I'm not home yesterday yet."

Suburbanite of the week is the Glenoe man who came home from a cocktail party, ran over his wife's prize rose bush, rammed into the garage and ripped off the overhanging door. Can you picture the damage he'd have done had he been driving his car?

Railroad division superintendent John Corning, exiting from church services on Sunday morning, was asked, "What do you think of our new preacher?" "He's quite eloquent," admitted Corning, "but he has mighty poor terminal facilities."

Putnam County Playhouse presents, 'Angel Street'

A Review of the Putnam County Playhouse of "Angel Street," a Victorian Thriller, by Patrick Hamilton.

The purpose of community theater is to give people in the community a chance to try their hand at amateur theatricals. As such, one expects that the stage-struck will turn out to put on the grease paint, walk in front of the lights, amuse the neighbors, and not much else.

Those who attend the Putnam County Playhouse's opening feature with the above expectations are in for a surprise. "Angel Street," as directed by Mrs. Marion Gifford, is much more than "amateur theatricals." It is a most polished, quickly moving, and rather exciting mystery story set in Victorian England, where all mystery stories should be set. The staging of the play is expertly done, the dialogue is crisp, the action is brisk, and the overall impression is one of professional character.

Starring in her first role is Mrs. Barbara Meehan as Bella Manningham, the gentle victim of a ruthless man who is intent upon driving her mad for some dark reason. Mrs. Meehan gives a breathless performance and a great deal of character to what might be simply a whimpering, frightened, woman.

As the ruthless husband, Dr. James Elrod turns in the performance with the greatest polish. His villain never sinks to melodrama, but somehow, one wishes to attack him to defend the poor wife. Dr. Elrod gives the scheming character a flavor of detachment from human feelings, even to the bounce in his walk as he sets about his foul deeds.

Another first-timer whom we hope to see again is Dr. Paul Kissinger in the role of the police inspector who uncovers the dark deed. Although one is accustomed to expect more stuffiness from a British policeman, Dr. Kissinger is quite believable and thoroughly sympathetic.

Supporting this trio are Mrs. Edna Poor and Miss Donna South in the roles of servants in the strange household. Their more than adequate performances add both sympathy to the play for the wife, and a romantic element for the husband.

And what would a community theater mystery do without policemen? We have them in the persons of Pat Aikman and Don Holly. They don't say a word, but they do a fine job. About the only dark feature to this play is the simple lack of lighting in Speech Hall. But then, if the community supports this very fine production, and the rest of the Playhouse Summer offerings, as they should, perhaps a few more lights could be purchased to fill in the gaps. At any rate, "Angel Street" will be running for three nights, June 15, 16 and 17, and if you miss it, you will indeed miss a very fine production.

Officers are elected at Boy's State

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. UPI—Indiana Boys State, an experience in practical state government sponsored by the American Legion, produced a politically-divided set of officials, with the Nationalist Party holding the edge.

Just as happens in Indiana state elections sometimes, Steve Judah, Vincennes, the new governor elected Wednesday, belongs to one party, (Nationalist) and the lieutenant governor, Gregg Straessle, Fort Wayne, represents the Federalist Party.

The reign of the newly elected officers will be brief since most of the weeklong government at Indiana University here was spent in campaigning for election. The final public event will be presentation Friday night of the "outstanding citizen" award.

Rep. John T. Myers, R-Ind., Indiana's congressman from the 7th District, was present for inauguration of state officials Wednesday night and will attend the awards ceremony.

Other newly-elected officers were:

Tom Ristine, Crawfordville, secretary of state; Bruce A. Gibson, Brazil, state auditor; Jerry Wolf, Indianapolis, state treasurer; Lyle Hunnicutt, Plainfield, attorney general; Dennis Sullivan, Sullivan, state superintendent of public instruction, all Nationalist Party members.

John Snyder, Hammond, clerk, and Kim S. Walker, Alexandria, reporter of the Supreme and Appellate Courts, both Federalists.

Scott Hatch and Carl Herberster, both of Lakeville, and Chad McDaniel, Indianapolis, Nationalists, and Seamans J. Jones, Clarksville, and Ralph Loomis, Richmond, Federalists, to the Supreme Court.

David Estenlaub, Chandler; Frank Rogers, Martinsville; Kenneth Roswarski, Lafayette; Eric Miller, Rushville; Bob Broshears, Evansville; Rich Fuller, Chalmers, and Mike Loudon, Washington, all Nationalists, and John Sharpe, Brownsburg, Federalist, composing the eight members of the Indiana Appellate Court, Boys State style.

Jackie, children visiting Ireland

SHANNON AIRPORT, Ireland UPI—Jacqueline Kennedy and her two children arrived today in a kind of fulfillment of John F. Kennedy's promise four years ago to come back to "the green and misty isle."

The late President's wife smiled and waved to thousands of Irish who cheered the welcome "cead mile failte go Eirann" — 100,000 welcomes to Ireland.

"Now I know what Jack meant," Mrs. Kennedy said.

His visit without his family to the home of his forefathers in the last summer of his life had deeply moved Kennedy and he told his wife about it. That was one reason Irish guards were at his burial.

Today Mrs. Kennedy surveyed the crowd and said she felt she was "coming home." She would come back, she said, "again and again."

Mrs. Kennedy, Caroline and John came to spend a six-week vacation and it touched this sentimental nation.

Government and people planned to make it as quiet a vacation as possible. It was impossible.

Thunderous applause rolled across the foggy airport when Mrs. Kennedy, in a powder blue A-line style coat, stepped from the Irish International Aer Lingus jet airliner.

Caroline, 10, to no one's surprise, skipped down the steps first, wearing a gray coat and a little white bow in her hair. John, 6, in a tan suit, held his mother's hand as the crowd saluted them. Jacqueline Kennedy waved her free hand.

This was the land from which the late President's great-grandfather set forth to the New World more than a century ago. Today seemed like a homecoming of sorts.

Jacqueline Kennedy embraced her husband's cousins.

"I have looked forward so much to meeting you. My husband spoke so often about you," she said.

She had to coax little John forward. "Shake hands," she said.

John did, shyly.

"He's not often so shy," she said, smiling.

The crowd at the airport came from over the country. A large banner from Waterford, where the Kennedys will stay, said, "Welcome to our country."

Book memorial to Mrs. Betty Fall

The Greencastle - Putnam County Public Library has just received the book, American Popular Songs, from the Revolutionary War to the Present, edited by David Ewen. This book was presented to the library by the Cassell Tucker Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, in memory of Mrs. Betty Fall.

David Ewen is a well known authority and critic of music and musicians. In this book he has compiled an alphabetical guide to over 400 songs, he has added anecdotal and historical material.

This is one of the most useful references of its kind.

It contains ballad and novelty songs of wartime and politics, minstrel shows, vaudeville, Tin Pan Alley, stage and screen songs, who wrote them, who sang them, and where they were first performed.

Three appendices contain An All-Time Hit Parade, "All Time Best-Selling Popular Records," and "Some American Performers of the Past and Present."

This is an extremely valuable reference work for anyone who wants information in this field.

Hollywood News

(By VERNON SCOTT)

HOLLYWOOD UPI — Britt Ekland is a breathtakingly beautiful Swede who is on the brink of stardom despite living in the long shadow cast by her talented husband, Peter Sellers.

Britt has two movies awaiting release in the country—"The Bobo" and "The Double Man"—both of which are calculated to catapult her to the top rank of screen eminence.

She is one of those rare ones among contemporary actresses; the kind whose physical appearance alone stops a scene cold.

At 24 Britt is the universal image of what a Swedish girl should be. Blonde hair tumbles below her shoulders, her skin is as clear as a Scandinavian sky. Her blue eyes are wide-set, her nose tip-tilted and her figure absolutely perfect.

By comparison Garbo and Ingrid Bergman were milkmaids when they first entered movies. Ekland's English is tinged with only a hint of accent.

She last visited Hollywood under tragic circumstances three years ago when Sellers suffered massive heart seizures and almost died. At that time local producers weren't bright enough to see the young beauty's potential.

Now, however she has commitments for seven months, most of which will be filmed here or in England.

Britt was never a recognized actress in her own country and is delighted that she didn't get her start in Sweden.

"It can be a great handicap," she said. "I'd never have been forced to learn to speak English if I'd stayed in Sweden."

"And I'm not thought of as a 'Swedish actress,' as so often happens."

"I don't even go to see Swedish movies. They infuriate me." Britt got her head start in movies with husband Sellers in "After The Fox" playing, of all things, an Italian girl. She will be seen with him again in "The Bobo," this time as a Spanish beauty.

But in "The Double Man" she's a Scandinavian.

"I have enough accent so that I may never play an American girl," she pouted, "but I can be accepted as any European, not just a Swede."

Britt needs not fear acceptance on any terms. The future stretches out ahead of her, and it is stream with stardust.

Drive underway in 'War Zone D' In attempt to trap 2,000 Cong

SAIGON UPI—American and allied troops killed 262 Communists in a bitterly fought drive to smash guerrilla battalions harassing Saigon, U. S. military spokesmen said today.

Units of the U. S. Army 1st Infantry Division stormed in helicopters into swamps 50 miles north-northeast of the capital and in four hours Wednesday killed 60 Viet Cong.

The Americans lost three men killed and 11 wounded and drove ahead in the guerrilla sanctuary called War Zone D in hopes of trapping 2,000 more Viet Cong.

In the lush Mekong Delta 85 miles southwest of Saigon, two Vietnamese companies—about 200 men—ran into about 600 guerrillas. They stood fast in the rice paddies until U. S. and government planes and artillery arrived. The allied firepower killed 202 Communists.

The South Vietnamese captured 19 more. Government losses were reported as light.

Maj. Gen. John Hancock Hay, 1st Division commander, told UPI in the field he aims at not only killing Communists in War Zone D but cutting off their supply lines.

"We're going to clean out our own backyard by destroying base camps and mapping out the area," he said. American troops never before set foot in the treacherous watery jungle where they fought Wednesday.

"We expect to find concrete bunkers and permanent type base camps. Charlie (Viet Cong) has a maximum ability to stay there and he won't want to give up," the general said.

Hay's helicopters whirled his men into jungles just between War Zone D and its sister Communist sanctuary, War Zone C which sits on the Cambodian border. The Viet Cong supply line runs from North Vietnam, through Laos and Cambodia, into War Zone C and into Zone D.

"We're in a position to interrupt that flow of supplies," Hay told UPI correspondent Virgil Kret.

U. S. troops have slain more than 4,000 Communists the past 18 months in War Zone C. But the area is the size of Massachusetts. And, while the war has raged on the North-South Vietnam border from the past few months, the Viet Cong has rebuilt its camps and battalions.

It showed in a growing tide of terror and guerrilla raids around Saigon. Wednesday night, for example, the Viet Cong set fire to a major U. S. Army Special Forces ammunition dump just north of the city.

The dump still burned at dawn today.

Triple drowning

STENDAL UPI—A woman and two children—her son and her niece—lost their lives Wednesday in Indiana's second triple-drowning tragedy in 48 hours in the season's hottest weather.

The victims were Mrs. Patricia Aldridge, 27, R. R. 2, Stendal; her son, Terry Braunecker, 8, and her niece, Susan Trava-giakis, 11, R. R. 2, Oakland City.

Details of the accident three miles northeast of this Pike County town 30 miles northeast of Evansville were sketchy.

The three apparently were wading in a shallow water at the edge of a strip pit owned by the Blackfoot Land & Coal Corp. when one or all of them stepped off a ledge into deep water.

Authorities did not know whether Mrs. Aldridge died trying to save the children.

The bodies were recovered about half an hour after the drowning was reported to Pike County Sheriff Allen Smith and Coroner Robert Harris.

Life in Cairo slowly returns To normal; War signs remain

CAIRO UPI—Life returned slowly to normal in this city of four million today. Bars and restaurants were open once again to long after midnight, stores blazed with lights and public transport was running as usual.

Some signs remained of the war not yet one week old, however. Windows and auto headlights were still painted blue in case authorities decide to reimpose wartime blackout conditions.

Newspapers heaped abuse on the United States and Britain. Officials pressed ahead with diplomatic activities aimed at strengthening the Arabs' post-war position.

The semi-official newspaper Al Ahram led the anti-American attack with a charge that Washington exerted strong pressure on African governments to side with Israel at the forthcoming anticipated United Nations General Assembly debate on the Middle East.

The newspaper claimed, however, African states were refusing to shift their neutral or pro-Arab positions.

Al Ahram said Egypt would send a high level delegation to the United Nations if the General Assembly meets. It did not identify any of the members.

In a war-inspired move, authorities began arranging the evacuation of 1,576 tourists, including 65 Americans, 123 Britons and 100 Frenchmen. They were trapped in Cairo when the shooting began.

Some of the tourists, it was announced, would be driven to Libya. Others were leaving by sea.

Federal government maps new plan

Accident prevention program: 'Get Tough'

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—The federal government is in the area of traffic safety to stay, and a "get-tough" approach to accident prevention already is appearing, according to a principal speaker at the Governor's Traffic Safety conference here.

Russell I. Brown, president of the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, said the fact that "suddenly, big important groups care about traffic safety" has changed the environment.

"No longer will we merely implore and beg citizens to 'drive carefully' and our elected officials to 'do something' about traffic accident," Brown said.

"Now certain things must be done, or else. Eventually we are going to see a full-blown federal apparatus dealing with traffic safety."

Brown predicted also that "some of the technical spillover from space and military knowledge" about saving lives will carry over into prevention of traffic deaths. Helicopters are used in Vietnam to get wounded soldiers from battlefields to fully equipped hospitals in 15 minutes or less, Brown said, and this technique is being adapted to civilian traffic injuries.

"One demonstration project is contemplated for 1967 in which a helicopter will be used to evacuate injured from an auto crash scene," he said. "The ability to pick up and treat the injured is regarded by some as the single most significant factor in whether a state has a high accident fatality rate or a low one."

Brown said "the states are really under the gun" on the new standards which are being set by the new Department of Transportation and which call for penalties in reduced federal funds for noncompliance. "Some states already are telling the federal people to take their 10 per cent because they can't make it," Brown said.

Governor Branigin made a brief welcoming talk, and state officials concerned with traffic safety spoke in the afternoon.

Indiana is considered to rank fairly well with the new standards for states, so far as they are now determined. Brown said requirements for mandatory motor vehicle inspection and driver education have been the two areas most states have protested they cannot meet.

The 1967 Legislature enacted a mandatory motor vehicle inspection law and Indiana already had a driver education program, although it does not meet federal standards in some areas.

4-H horse and pony show

The Putnam County 4-H Horse and Pony Equestrians held a special demonstration for club members at the Greencastle Fairgrounds, Monday, June 12, at 5:00 p. m.

For this demonstration, the club had as their special guest, Miss Sherri Winnington from Terre Haute. Sherri is ranked 7th in the National American Quarter Horse Association Youth Activities. In 1965, she won the Indiana Horse Show Association Sportsmanship Award, competing with nearly one hundred other young riders. She is now showing her horses in five states including Indiana and Illinois. She is also a candidate for I.H.S.A. queen. With her she brought her two champion horses—Wimper's Queen, registered as a Palomino and as a Quarter Horse and Power Go, a registered Quarter Horse sorrel.

Since it was a fairly hot day, the club held the demonstration in the outside arena. First, riding Power Go, Sherri showed the members how to warm a horse up by working him in small circles and figure 8's. She explained how useful this type of warming up can be in getting ready for a Reining Class or a contest such as Barrel Racing. Then she worked her horse into pivots and roll-backs which are parts of the standard reining pattern used at most horse shows. She pointed out how leads influence roll-backs and the way a horse maneuvers. She ran through the reining pattern for the club members first at a normal speed and then slower, going step by step, explaining as she went. A lot of members are preparing their horses for these types of contests this year, so there were a lot of questions asked.

Mounting her Palomino mare, Sherri demonstrated how a horse should work in a Pleasure Class. She showed the proper way to mount a horse and the proper way to hold the reins in a Pleasure Class. She told the members how to practice a Pleasure horse at home to keep him from getting ring wise.

Then with her sorrel gelding, Sherri showed members how to show a horse in a Halter Class. She demonstrated the correct way to set a horse up without touching him, leading him in front of the judge, and how the horse should look in a Halter

Class. With time running out, Sherri ended her demonstration by answering any questions the club members had. The club was honored by having such a distinguished guest and hopes to have Miss Sherri Winnington back again soon.

A meeting of the Putnam County 4-H Horse and Pony Equestrians were held Monday, June 12, in the Community Building at the Greencastle Fairgrounds at 7:30 p. m.

The meeting was called to order by President Barry Grimes and the minutes were read by Secretary Judy Nichols. Attendance was taken and old and new business was discussed. A film entitled "Ride, Cowboy, Ride" was shown in two parts. It talked about different types of horses and their uses. It showed different types of rodeo contests and Grand Entry maneuvers. It showed riding schools in action and 4-H members in action performing in various classes with their horses. It showed trail rides in the mountains and cross-country races.

After the film was shown, the meeting was then adjourned by President Barry Grimes. Barbara Perkins will give a report at the next meeting on grooming horses. There will be an outside meeting at the fairgrounds, Sunday, June 25, at 1:30 p. m. Members will bring their horses.

Policeman, father are Injured in fire leap

ANDERSON UPI—A policeman and a father of seven were hurt today when they leaped from the second floor of a burning house with children they rescued in their arms.

Police Sgt. Byron Chamberlin, 30, suffered a broken wrist and sprained right leg when he jumped with one child in each arm from a window of the Richard Worden home.

Worden suffered a foot fracture and abrasions in a similar leap with one child in his arms. Two of the children were unhurt in the jump. But the three and their four brothers and sisters, who were rescued from the smoke-filled upper floor by city firemen, were treated for smoke inhalation and 3-year-old Michael for a cut on his chin which required seven stitches to close.

Mrs. Mary Worden, 30, mother of the youngsters, also was treated for smoke inhalation at St. John's Hospital where Chamberlin and Worden were reported in good condition.

The other children were Richard, 13, Kathy, 12, Mary, 9, Joe, 8, Susan, 6, and Julie, 5.

Big season for television stars

HOLLYWOOD UPI—This has been a big season for television stars who returned in the formats that helped bring them fame. Jackie Gleason and Art Carney reviewed "The Honey-mooners" with great success. Jack Webb brought back "Dragnet," and it clicked again in the ratings. And Wednesday night Steve Allen turned up with a new summer variety series that prompted fond memories.

Remarkably and thankfully, however, it did not rely on those memories to carry it off, and the result was a CBS-TV hour that was, for the most part, fast, funny and very ingratiating. Somehow, Allen always manages to instill his work with a sense of exuberance and refined insanity that is a particular trademark and blessing.

As with Allen's past comedy, variety outings, the Wednesday debut had an overriding aura of buoyancy, good nature and professionalism that carried it over some of the hour's soft spots. Although Allen has been around television for many years, I think that sometimes he is taken for granted, as are Gleason, Carney and Lucille Ball. Allen is one of the very few humorists since the heyday of the Marx brothers to have the gift of combining intelligence and elapstick so that they deflate the bogus.

And although his series is not on the CBS-TV fall schedule, it would be nice to think that the network might keep it in mind when one of its shows is inevitably canceled around mid-season. There was also some talk a while back about Allen and his wife, Jayne Meadows, doing a Mr. and Mrs. situation comedy. At any rate, Mrs. Allen is a regular on the summer series, and she showed a fine flair for racy, bawdy humor on the Wednesday debut.

Others on hand were Louis Nye and Dayton Allen, two priceless funnymen of the star's former video stable of comic talent. Also: comedian John Byner, and singers Lana Cantrell and Sonny and Cher, each of whom made substantial contributions to the hour. The spirit of the occasion was such that a good comedy sketch performance was even drawn from the singer who calls himself Sonny and is willing to let it go at that.

The Wednesday program had some splendid man-in-the-street interviews, with Nye reviving his "Gordon Hathaway" character and Dayton Allen portraying a topless waiter. A while later, there was a skit that took comic potshots at ABC-TV's "The Newlywed Game." On the Allen show, it was called "the just-married game," and it was described by the announcer as "television's newest and most humiliating game... our show thrives on bad taste." The skit degenerated near the end, but it made its point.

Climaxing the hour was a lengthy sketch suggesting what might happen at a far-off day when people who make a living off charity telethons have to face the fact that all major illnesses have been beaten. Undaunted, they create a telethon to defeat prickly heat, "which can strike anywhere... with no regard to race or creed."

In this zany sketch, Miss Meadows was particularly good as a cheap, bad, rapid pop singer who felt "it's so wonderful to be here for this wonderful disease." And comedian Byner created a small gem in his enactment of one of those very bad, small-time, insulting comics with a stale lineup of jokes. Allen was the host, "Steve Maudlin," whose next French financier Baron Edmond de Rothschild of the famous banking family said Wednesday night that there are good prospects for a period of new prosperity in Israel. The estimates on the war's cost said the five days of fighting may reach a total of $65 million. The figure took into account mobilization and maintenance of manpower, the cost and maintenance of weapons and vehicles and physical damage Israel incurred.

It has been estimated the United States spends $34 million per day fighting the Vietnam war.

De Rothschild said the critical days of the war and the tense two weeks before it brought no disorganization to the Israeli economy. Although the Israeli pound climbed to a rate of 4.05 to the dollar during the war, it is now back to under 3.45 to the dollar.

The Israeli stock market has climbed 20 per cent in the past few weeks and investors are buying at an increasing rate. Foreign investment has also given a quick shot in the arm to the Israeli construction industry which had dropped to a low point in months before the war.

Another major Israeli industry that promises to soar as a result of the war is tourism.

The war also brought hopes of expanded commerce with the re-opening and securing of the port of Elath, briefly blockaded by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser, and the possibility that the Suez Canal might be eventually opened to Israeli shipping.

New markets are now opened to Israel with the capture of the West bank of the Jordan river. The nation of Jordan always has needed manufactured goods and has always sought markets for its agricultural products.

At one fell swoop, all the barriers restricting trade between Jordan and Israel were torn down. Israeli officials now believe Israel can trade with the whole west bank region of Jordan to the mutual benefit of both nations.

Viet casualties

WASHINGTON UPI—The Defense Department listed three Hoosier servicemen among those who died recently in Vietnam war action.

Army Sgt. James L. Kistler, son of Mrs. Stella Kistler, 1425 Wright Street, Logansport, Ind., was listed killed in action.

Army Capt. George B. Hays, husband of Mrs. Carolyn S. Hays, R. R. 2, Montpelier, Ind., died not as a result of hostile action.

Air Force 1st Lt. Richard W. Podell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore L. Podell, R. R. 4, Winamac, Ind., was killed in action.

Chamberlin discovered the fire as he cruised by the house in a patrol car in the early morning darkness.

telethon was to fight "the greatest killer of them all: natural causes."

Ports tied up by wage dispute

NEW YORK UPI—Shipping in Atlantic and Gulf ports was tied up today by a strike of deck officers in a dispute over wages recently granted to members of other maritime unions.

At least 20 ships were immediately affected by the walk-out, called Wednesday by officers of the International Organization of Masters, Mates and Pilots (IMM).

Most of the ships affected were in the ports of New York, New Orleans and Baltimore. Nearly 600 ships flying the American flag could ultimately be affected unless the strike is settled.

The liner United States, scheduled to depart for Europe today with 1,625 passengers, was not expected to be affected because its deck officers have signed agreements, a spokesman for the liner said.

The dispute involves a "parity" clause in the deck officers' contract which the union claims entitles its members to seek equal benefits granted to other maritime unions. The Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (MEBA) recently won a $2-an-hour increase which the IMM would like to match.

Petition PSC

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—The Everton Water Corp. has petitioned the Indiana Public Service Commission for authority to borrow $208,000 to construct a water distribution system in and near the town southeast of Connersville.

The petition shows the minimum rate would be $5.75 monthly but the majority of users would pay $8.75.

Strike Causes Plant Shutdown

COLUMBUS UPI — The ten-day strike against Radio Corporation of America has caused a Columbus plant which supplies parts to RCA to shut its doors — at least temporarily.

President A. D. Silva, Jr., of C. P. Electronics, Inc., said Wednesday that the plant will be shut down for six working days from June 26 through July 4 because of the RCA strike and other economic reasons.

The United Brotherhood of Electrical Workers strike against nine plants, including three in Indiana, is over wage increases and a bid for a cost of living allowance. The strike affects 32,000 employees at the nine plants.

Negotiations were to begin Thursday in Washington. Sources close to the negotiators say the two factions are closer to an agreement than was at first believed.

The shut-down at C. P. Electronics affects 210 workers—185 of them are U.B.E.W. members. Layoffs in March and the first week in June were apparently also a result of the RCA strike.

Before painting newly plastered walls, a brush coat of one part vinegar to four parts of water will cut the drawing effect of new plaster. The paint will adhere better and last longer.

When applying liquid wax to floors, dampen applicator or cloth with cold water to save wax.

Katt gets rhythm back; shuts out Twins, 7-0

It took eight months for Jim Katt to get his message across but the Minnesota Twins' left-hander is making up for lost time in a hurry.

Katt, whose open letter to the Minnesota fans last October described former Twin manager Sam Mele as a man who had lost the respect of his ballplayers, pitched a five-hitter Wednesday night as the Twins shut-out Detroit 7-0.

It was the second straight complete game victory for Katt since Mele was replaced by Cal Ermer last Friday.

The winningest pitcher in the American League last season with 25 victories, Katt stopped Baltimore 8-1 last Saturday on a six-hitter in his first start after Mele was fired. Katt is now 3-7 after getting off to a 1-7 start this season under Mele.

Fight results

NEW YORK UPI — Victor Baerga, 134, Puerto Rico, outpointed Victor Melendez, 135 1-4, Puerto Rico (10).

Katt became disturbed when Mele asked that pitching coach Johnny Sain not be rehired in 1967.

Katt said in his public letter that Mele hadn't gotten along with Sain since the middle of the 1965 season. Sain and third base coach Billy Martin were feuding and when Sain moved out of the coaching quarters, Mele ignored it.

Katt, who is now under the instruction of Earl Wynn, was unable to do anything right for the first part of the season.

But he has been the Katt of old since Ermer took over. "I've got my rhythm back," Katt said after handcuffing the Tigers. "I really seem to be getting into the swing of things."

Elsewhere in the American League, Chicago nipped Boston 8-7 before dropping the second game of the two-night double-header 6-1. New York defeated Washington 7-1 in the opener of their twinbill while the Senators squeezed out a 3-2 victory in the nightcap. Kansas City bombed Baltimore 9-2 and California edged Cleveland 8-2.

In the National League, Los Angeles beat Chicago, 4-3. New York shutout Cincinnati 4-0. Atlanta rocked Philadelphia 16-7. St. Louis downed Pittsburgh 7-4 and Houston handled San Francisco 7-4.

Harmen Killebrew gave Katt all the support he needed in the first inning when he belted his 16th homer of the season. Jerry Zimmerman and Red Carew each connected with a man aboard in the second to build the lead to 5-0. Tiger starter Earl Wilson served up all the homers as he took his fifth loss against eight victories.

Katt had superb control, not allowing a walk while striking out six.

Home runs by Dick Kenworthy, Tommie Agee and Walt Williams helped the White Sox to an early lead that just held up after the Red Sox rallied for two runs in the ninth. Rico Petrocelli and George Scott blasted homers for Boston. In the nightcap Chicago manager Eddie Stanky was ejected in the seventh inning for disputing a call made by first base umpire Larry Napp that took an apparent two-run homer away from J. C. Martin. Scott smashed his second homer of the night and Yastrzemski added his, a solo blast.

The Yankees took advantage of three Senator errors to score five unearned runs as Charley Smith led a 13-hit attack with two triples. Al Downing went the distance for New York to gain his seventh victory in 10 decisions. Phil Ortega needed ninth inning relief help from Darold Knowles in the second game to beat the Yankees for the fifth time in his career. Steve Whitaker finished the Washington starter with a two-run homer. Mike Epstein drove in two runs with a first inning double for the Senators.

Rookie John Donaldson stroked two singles and a double and drove in three runs to enable Chuck Dobson to gain his fourth win against two losses. Donaldson delivered a run scoring single in the three-run second, knocked in another in the A's four run outburst in the fifth and doubled for Kansas City's final run in the eighth.

Bob Rodgers drove in all the California runs with a fourth inning home run and a two-run single with the bases loaded in the ninth to give the Angels a come-from-behind victory. Rocky Colavito's two-run homer in the first inning accounted for all the Indians' runs.

Putnam County youths attend basketball camp

Nine Putnam County boys have enrolled in DePauw University's tenth annual pre-high school basketball camp which opens its two one-week sessions June 18 and 25 on the Greencastle campus.

The boys include: Tim Atchley, 728 Crescent Court, Kirk Frederick, 232 Hillsdale, Lance Orlosky, 326 Dogwood Lane, Scott Orlosky, 326 Dogwood Lane, Steve Poor, Route 3, Greg Shoup, Route 3, Mark Shoup, Route 3, and Gary Reeves, Route 3, all of Greencastle; and Ricky Joe Call, Route 1, Roachdale.

Salvidar favored in bout tonight

CARDIFF, Wales UPI — Welshman Howard Winstone was the sentimental favorite, but world champion Vicente Saldivar of Mexico carried the betting money for tonight's featherweight title bout.

Winstone, the 28-year-old boxing master from Merthyr Tydfil, will enter the ring amid an explosion of national emotion and a massed choir of 40,000 voices in a second attempt to wrest the crown from the southpaw with "la mane de oro" (the hand of gold).

But Salvidar, 24, has pared down nicely to the 126-pound limit, looked great in training, and is expected to finish the fight inside the distance. Winstone, a slender 5-feet, 5-inches, has the class but not the punch to trouble the Mexican, who is built like a welterweight and slugs like one.

The Welshman, noted for his speed and flashing left, has deliberately slowed down in an effort to add more authority to his punching. But he is still suspect against southpaw combinations.

Cards beat Burros in Big-4 game

Fillmore's Cardinals picked up their first Big Four Conference baseball victory last night by scoring a run in the ninth inning against Pittsboro and winning the contest 1-0. The game put Fillmore at 1-1 for the summer season.

Both teams failed to score during the regulation seven innings and during the eighth stanza. In the top of the ninth, Fillmore took advantage of the home team when Walton tried to steal third base and the catcher overthrew the third sacker's arms allowing Walton to score the only run of the game. Pittsboro's talented pitcher Ashley tried to save the game in the bottom of the ninth when he clobbered a high fast ball into deep center field, but Fillmore's center fielder Pickett made a leaping catch and saved the game.

Cardinal pitcher John Tharp claimed the victory after going the full route and allowing only two hits and striking out 16 men. Ashley hurled for Pittsboro and struck out thirteen men and allowed three walks along with six hits.

Fillmore will play at Darlington Sunday before coming home for five consecutive games.

fishing report

The Indiana Department of Conservation reports that fishing is generally good for Central Indiana this week when they issued the following report:

CENTRAL INDIANA: Excellent stream fishing is taking place at Sugar Creek and Big Raccoon in Montgomery County as fine catches of smallmouth bass, rock bass and channel catfish have been reported by Department of Natural Resources fieldmen. At Lake Monroe the story is still big bluegills being caught on poppers and redworms, bass taking top-water bait early and late and blueheads in fair numbers.

Cataract fishermen are getting catches of large channel and flathead catfish on set lines using large minnows. The big news at Raccoon Lake is crappies, which are biting on minnows and jigs.

Geist Reservoir fishermen are taking crappies on jigs and minnows and many bluegills on flies and poppers. They are also taking channel and blue catfish with soft craws, liver and cheese. Bass are off their beds and are starting to hit artificial baits.

Water is normal and in good condition at Prairie Creek and Kokomo reservoirs. Anglers are being rewarded with catches of fish using beemoths and redworms for bluegills minnows for crappies, night crawlers for channel catfish and artificials and night crawlers for bass. Stream fishermen are getting the usual catches of bullheads, carp, suckers and sunfish.

BAINBRIDGE NEWS

By Mrs. Muriel Nelson, Correspondent

The Methodist Junior Choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Ella Jane Crawley, had a memorable day Sunday, beginning with Morning Church Service when they sang the closing hymn. Mid-afternoon they motored with their parents to the Greencastle Airport for airplane rides. First flights for most of them. To draw this exciting day to a close, they roasted wieners in the woods south of Union Chapel Church. This was a day that will be long remembered by the following choir members: Steve and Mike Bullerick, David and Rodney Crawley, Jerry and Terry Lents, Denise and Mark Hess, Allen and Melinda Huffman and Carla and Loretta Miles.

On June the second, Paul Collett drove the following men to Indianapolis airport, where they boarded a plane for High Point, N. Carolina: Charles Frazee, School Superintendent; Jim Harris of Greencastle Chevrolet - Buick Sales; Raymond Ader, Ernest Earley, Paul Grider, Kenneth Miller, Hubert McGaughey, James Summers and Rue McCullough. These men drove new 1967 school buses back to Indiana, which were for North Putnam Corporation. The seating capacity of these buses is for 66 passengers. They arrived here on June 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harshbarger attended the Alumni Banquet at Manchester College Saturday evening and also visited over the weekend with their son, Dick and family.

Mrs. Margaret Dickson and Mrs. Maude Crodian were hostesses Saturday evening to the Birthday Bridge Club at the home of Mrs. Dickson. After delicious refreshments, five games of bridge were enjoyed.

Mrs. Archie Pingleton flew TWA to Dallas, Texas, to attend the Commencement of her granddaughter, who graduated with honors out of a class of 600. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Frazier and children and Debbie Pingleton also drove to Texas for the activities. They will all return this week by car.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris McGaughey and family of Russellville and Mrs. Bernice Steward recently enjoyed a four day vacation in Chicago. They stayed in the Holiday Inn on Lake Shore Drive.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gooch were his sister, Mrs. Robert Carmichael and husband of Greencastle. Other guests last week were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Arnold of Fillmore.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hunt of Newcastle visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James Skelton and family and Mrs. Hazel

Graham and Delbert. Miss Dinah Lingo of Rehoboth, Del., has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Hanks and attended the 500 mile race with them. Other guests this week are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Terry of West Palm Beach, Florida. Mr. Terry was a friend of Mr. Hanks while they were in the Armed Forces.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Dickson of Indianapolis visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Dickson on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don White, Scott and Kim, spent Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harlan. They enjoyed the carnival and visits with friends.

Miss Carolyn Roth accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Blue home Sunday evening where she visited till Tuesday.

Several friends from here called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hendricks Sunday in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Cecil Bullerick and daughter, Geraldine and two grandsons are on a two weeks vacation to Yellowstone Park and other interesting spots.

Miss Treva Raymann has returned to Terre Haute after a week's vacation here with her parents. She will attend Indiana State and also be employed part time for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Parker and children of Eminence spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Avery Austin and the little girls were among the many children that enjoyed the merry go round and rides at the carnival.

Lisa and Robb Fine of Mt. Meridian were guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Luther over the weekend.

Mrs. Don Hoffman and children of near Lebanon were Sunday guests of Mrs. Hoffman's mother, Mrs. Bernice Steward.

4-H CLUB

The 4-H Junior Homemakers held their 9th meeting in the Home Economics room at 10:00 a.m. Cherrel Neat led the group in the pledge to the flag. Nancy Jones led the 4-H pledge. Susan Robertson was song leader. Several demonstrations were given. Terri Sutherland's demonstration was, "How To Make a chocolate eggnog." Holly Knights demonstration was, "Meal Serving." Nancy Jones gave a summer dessert demonstration. Refreshments were served by Holly Knights and Sherri Walton. The next meeting will be held June 17th at the same place.

Fincastle News

Several from here attended the Bible School program at the Baptist Church in Roachdale Sunday evening, at the same time another group attended the Bible School program in Russellville.

Mrs. Mildred Mandileo entertained the Canasta Club with a luncheon Wednesday.

Relatives and friends called at the Weaver Funeral Home in Coatesville where the body of Mrs. Ethel Robbins lay in state, and attended her funeral there Thursday morning.

Vickie and Janice Carroll are visiting their grandmother Clodfelter this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Damon Lawrence and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bill Brothers and child 1 and their friend Roger Call and Mrs. Mary Virginia Clodfelter were dinner guests of Mrs. Maude Brothers Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. James Carroll and daughter were afternoon visitors of Mrs. Brothers.

Mrs. Flossie Lieske and children moved to their new home in Russellville last week.

Mr. Paul Grider flew to South Carolina last week and drove his new school bus home.

Mr. Leslie (Buster) Dean left Thursday for a camp in Michigan where he will remain for two weeks.

Trial continued until July 17

CHICAGO UPI—The murder trial of two men charged with killing a man in Chicago and dumping his body in an abandoned stone quarry in Ohio was continued Wednesday until May 17.

Circuit Court Judge Archibald J. Carey postponed start of the trial because of the heavy docket of cases in his court.

John W. Sparks, 32, Indianapolis, Ind., and Charles Duncan, 20, Middleton, Ohio, are accused of murdering Derrill Williams, 51, Chicago.

Williams' body was found Aug. 11 in an old stone quarry in Van Wert, Ohio.

Chicago police said they discovered Sparks had been seen driving the dead man's car to Indianapolis nine days after the body was found.

Sparks, arrested by Indianapolis police Sept. 2, said he and Duncan were in Williams' apartment Aug. 7 in Chicago. He told police that he left the room shortly after midnight and that when he returned Duncan said he had strangled Williams.

Sparks told police he helped Duncan wrap some sheets and blankets around the body, place it in a large cardboard box and drive it to a stone quarry in Ohio in the trunk of Williams' car.

Duncan was arrested in his Middleton, Ohio, home Oct. 7. He and Sparks have been held without bond in Cook County Jail.

Opening lead—king of clubs.
The trump coup is a comparatively rare maneuver, but that is hardly a good reason for failing to use it when the opportunity arises. Sometimes the declarer must make a risky play to bring about the coup, but, if that is the only way to accomplish his purpose, he should have no compunctions about taking the necessary risk. South was in four hearts and West, after leading the king of clubs, shifted to the jack of hearts. Declarer took it with the ace, cashed the A-K of spades, and ruffed a spade in dummy. When the spades proved to be divided 2-3, declarer led his last trump from dummy. East won with the queen as West showed out, and returned a club which declarer ruffed.

With six tricks to go, this was now the position:

South had already lost two tricks and to make the contract had to avoid losing two trump tricks to the K-9. Ordinary means could not accomplish this, so South placed his hopes on the successful execution of a trump coup. Accordingly, he led a diamond and finessed the jack.

When it held, declarer cashed the A-K of diamonds, discarding a spade, and then continued with the eight of diamonds. It did not matter whether East ruffed this diamond or the next one; in either case, East's nine of hearts was caught in a trap and the only trick South could now lose was to the king of hearts.

on the farm front

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

WASHINGTON UPI—Total farm assets reached a new high during 1966 at the same time farm debt expanded by a record amount, according to a new agricultural financial review.

The review, which will be part of the "Balance Sheet" of "Agriculture, 1967" to be published later this year by the Agriculture Department, showed that total farm assets reached a record $273 billion as of Jan. 1, 1967.

The figure represents an increase of $18.3 billion or 7 per cent over the year before.

The report says that while farm debt increased considerably, the rise was much smaller than the increase in the value of assets, resulting in an estimated $14 billion gain in equities.

Farm real estate assets, representing 67 per cent of total farm assets, increased $13.1 billion in 1966, the report said. They accounted for 72 per cent of the total estimated 1966 increase in farm assets.

On the liability side in a year marked by sharply rising interest rates, the real estate debt, representing 51 per cent of total farm debt, increased $2.3 billion or 55 per cent of the estimated increase in the total debt.

The total farm debt, not counting loans made by the Commodity Credit Corporation to farmers, expanded a record $4.7 billion. The 12 per cent increase was due to farmers purchasing large quantities of machinery, livestock and other production goods, along with continued improvements on their farms.

Short-term debt rose an estimated $2.4 billion, according to the report, and long-term debt increased by $2.3 billion.

The report said increases in farm income through the first half of the year contributed to widespread optimism and farmers used large amounts of credit despite higher interest rates. It added that although the total volume of farm mortgage lending in 1966 was larger than in 1965, the general tight money situation hit farm mortgage lending strongly in the last half of the year.

Net losses of the Agriculture Department's Commodity Credit Corp. (CCC) will reach an all-time record of about $3.8 or $3.9 billion for the fiscal year ending June 30, unofficial estimates indicated today.

The CCC, which finances federal farm support programs, indicated in a recent report that losses for the first 10 months of the fiscal year were $3,385,291,000. This 10-month total topped the previous record full-year loss, which was $3,335,500,000 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961.

CCC losses for the entire current fiscal year may be $500 million above the 10-month figure, experts indicated. This would leave the year's total about $800 million above the figure the previous year.

The sharp increase recorded for the 1966-67 year was due largely, the Agriculture Department indicated recently, to increased direct payments to farmers in price support programs covering wheat, feed grains and cotton.

Will receive Uniform prices

Grade A milk producers supplying the Indianapolis Federal Order market during the month of May will receive uniform prices of $4.62 per hundredweight for producer milk delivered to plants in the 0-70 mile zone, W. M. Costello, Market Administrator, announced today. These hundredweight prices will be adjusted up or down 7.8 cents for each one-tenth of one percent variation in butterfat test from 3.5 percent. The May price to farmers is 6 cents above the April price and 47 cents above a year earlier. Under the "Louisville Plan" provisions of the order, 44.16 cents per hundredweight was set aside on all producer milk in May. These funds are to be returned to the pool during the slack production months this fall.

A total of 2,650 producers delivered 83.4 million pounds of milk in May with a value to producers of four million dollars. Daily receipts per farm averaged 1,015 pounds during April and 954 pounds during May 1966.

In May, 72.1 percent of producer milk was disposed of as fluid milk and fluid milk products and priced as Class I to handlers at $5.52 per hundredweight for 3.5 percent butterfat milk. The remaining 27.9 percent was used for such milk products as ice cream, cottage cheese and other manufactured items and priced at $3.91 per hundredweight, the Class II price.

Israel offers to Exchange troops

JERUSALEM UPI — Israel offered today to exchange 4,500 Egyptian prisoners for the nine known Israeli soldiers being held in Egypt.

Brig. Gen. Schmuel Eyal said the prisoner exchange, proposed through the International Red Cross, would include the release of 9 generals, 10 colonels and 300 other Egyptian officers captured during the six-day war in the Sinai Desert.

In Geneva, the International Committee of the Red Cross said the first exchange of prisoners would take place Thursday at the airport at Nicosia, Cyprus. In Nicosia, Red Cross officials said wounded would be traded.

Eyal, personnel chief to the Israel chief of staff, told a news conference Wednesday Israel now has a total of 5,499 Arab prisoners of which 4,500 are Egyptians. He said 179 of the prisoners were wounded.

The only known Israeli prisoners in Arab hands were the nine in Egypt, two in Iraq, two in Jordan and one in Lebanon, Eyal said.

In the desert, he said, Israeli troops and planes were making every effort to locate Egyptian soldiers who might be lost. Another Defense Ministry spokesman, Lt. Col. Moshe Perlman, said Israeli trucks have collected at least 6,000 Egyptians in Sinai in the last few days and repatriated them.

Perlman said the Egyptians were taken to the east bank of the Suez canal and ferried across in barges sent by the Egyptians.

An Israeli spokesman said the Egyptians were disarmed before being allowed to cross the canal.

Perlman said most of the Egyptians had thrown away what few arms they had left before they were picked up in Sinai.

He added that Defense Minister Moshe Mayan had given his personal assurances to the Red Cross that wounded Egyptians in Sinai would be evacuated as soon as possible. Dayan made the pledge to Red Cross representative Marcel Andre Boisard during a chance meeting in the Suez area Wednesday.

News of boys

DUC PHO, Vietnam—Army Specialist Four Terry K. Sheldon, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel H. Sheldon, 806 Illinois St., Greencastle, is participating in "Operation Malheur II" near Duc Pho, Vietnam, with his unit from the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade.

They have accounted for 379 enemy killed in the first four weeks of fighting in the heavily-infested North Vietnamese and Viet Cong territory.

Spec. Sheldon is a rifleman in Company C, 1st Battalion of the brigade's 327th Infantry.

Perlman said the search for Egyptian soldiers in Sinai has been hampered by snipers and the sheer size of the operation.

He said Israeli planes and helicopters dropped water supplies to isolated Israeli units in Sinai but it was nearly impossible to locate and supply isolated Egyptians and well.

Negro, white wife protest targets

WARREN, Mich. UPI — About 200 policemen were on alert today, ready to resume a cordon around the home of a Negro man and his white wife who have been the objects of rocks and epithets hurled the past three days by angry neighbors.

Fifty local policemen in this Detroit suburb of 100,000 persons barricaded streets and sidewalks surround the home of Corado Bailey and his wife, Ruby, Wednesday night.

Another 150 Michigan state police were placed on standby alert in the Warren area. Authorities reported relative calm prevailed during the night.

Housewives and children in the neighborhood have gathered in front of the house the past few days to shout threats and obscenities at the family and toss stones against the $25,000 ranch-type home purchased by the Baileys less than two weeks ago by a white intermediary.

The Bailey family, including a 7-year-old daughter and Mrs. Bailey's 18-year-old son by a previous marriage, have escaped injury. Bailey, a skilled tradesman at a Detroit auto plant, stayed home Wednesday to protect his family.

About 200 angry neighbors gathered outside the home Tuesday night to jeer at the couple. Another 200 gathered at a public meeting Wednesday night to try to iron out their disagreements with police who would not let them march in front of the home.

One man vowed, "they the police won't be able to stay there forever. And when the police take down their blockade, the trouble will start all over again."

But the Baileys are equally adamant in their intentions to live in the house they bought in the nation's fastest-growing suburb.

"We are going to stay here," Mrs. Bailey said. "We are willing to forgive. We would like very much to be nice neighbors." Mrs. Bailey said she and her husband have lived for 13 years on the more racially mixed west side of Detroit and never experienced animosity from neighbors.

Bomber crashes in Texas field

DARROUZETT, Tex. UPI — A 1,300-mile-an-hour Indiana-based Air Force B58 Hustler bomber, which had radioed that it was in trouble, crashed and exploded in a pillar of flame on a plowed field in the Texas Panhandle Wednesday night.

One crewman was killed and the other two parachuted to safety.

The bomber was almost two hours into a training flight from Bunker Hill AFB.

The Air Force said Capt. William R. Bennett of Lakeland, Fla., was killed.

Maj. Clinton R. Brisendine of Dallas, Tex., the pilot, and Capt. Gary M. Cecchetti of Irwin, Pa., parachuted to safety.

A. C. Albritton, manager of the Gage, Okla., Airport, said the B58 radioed shortly before the crash "One J79 engine had flamed out and we are in trouble. We are ejecting."

Gary Schepp, 17, a member of a wheatcutting crew from Newburg, N.D., working on a combine a mile away, saw the plane hit.

"It kind of curled down and into a glide, hit and blew up," he said.

Wreckage was strewn over parts of two square miles.

The plane passed through turbulence that extended to

Smooth way for A-weapons pact

WASHINGTON UPI — In a move to smooth the way for an international non-proliferation treaty on nuclear weapons, the United States has released hitherto secret data on the U.S. capacity to produce enriched uranium.

The action was taken by the Atomic Energy Commission AEC Wednesday to back up American promises that it can meet the nuclear fuel needs of countries willing to forego developing uranium processing plants of their own and sign such a pact.

Based on projected rates of U.S. uranium production, the AEC has asserted it can keep the free world's nuclear power plants fueled throughout the decades of the 1970s and thereafter, it necessary.

Apparently some countries were skeptical of this, so the AEC decided to make public some "recently declassified quantitative information" on the capacity of its three giant gaseous diffusion plants to produce the enriched uranium used in fuels and weapons.

The data was highly technical and dealt in terms of the electrical power consumption and resultant enriched uranium production of the AEC's gaseous diffusion plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., Portsmouth, Ohio, and Paducah, Ky.

"Enriched uranium" is produced by adding to natural uranium a quantity of more atomically active isotope type of uranium atom.

Most nuclear power plants use fuel with an enrichment of 3 to 5 per cent over natural uranium. Weapons, on the other hand, demand an enrichment of 90 per cent.

The enrichment is accomplished by gaseous diffusion plants, which cost about $1 billion each to build.

At an input level of two million kilowatts of electrical energy, the three U.S. plants can produce together about 2,000 tons of 3 per cent enriched fuel a year, the AEC revealed.

At the three million kilowatt level, 2,800 tons can be produced, and at the six million level, 4,500 tons.

If the enrichment is stepped up to 90 per cent, the AEC said, the annual yield at the three levels of energy input would be about 35, 50 and 85 tons.

Senator Dodd is cross examined

By Steven Gerstel
WASHINGTON UPI—Reluctant Senate prosecutors today cross examined Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, demanding political donations for such as trips to the race track.

It was possibly the most trying day yet in the 14-month ordeal of the Connecticut Democrat, facing the prospect of politically ruinous censure by his colleagues on charges of using more than $116,000 in political contributions for personal expenses.

Chief inquisitor of the 60-year-old Dodd, who has fought the misconduct charges since early last year, was his former old friend, the chairman of the Senate Ethics Committee that indicted him, Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss.

Stennis said what Dodd did was "wrong on its face" and the Senate has the sad duty to censure him.

Dodd's emotional defense of himself Wednesday notwithstanding, Stennis insisted on clearer answers on how Dodd used more than $450,000 he collected in political contributions from 1961 to 1965.

Dodd's dramatic defense in four hours on the floor Wednesday appeared directly primarily at a subsidiary charge that he billed the Senate for travel expenses he also collected from other sources. He was so effective that he might have weakened that charge.

Stennis, a courtly former judge had a major hand in the Senate's last censure case in 1954. He was the first Democrat to call for censure of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis., who was subsequently condemned for his actions in connection with his charges of communism in government.
